ABOUT THE DISTRICT

Alappuzha is a district of immense natural beauty with the Arabian sea on the west, a vast network of backwaters, lagoons and fresh water rivers crisscrossing the land. The district was formed on 17th August 1957. It is the smallest district in area but having highest density of population (1492 /Sq.km). The total geographical area is 1414 sq. Km. The population of the district as per the Census 2001 was 2109160. This is the only district in Kerala having no high lands and forest. The district has a coastline of 82 kms.

The district is an important backwater destination attracting thousands of foreign tourists every year. Alappuzha is also famous for its boat races, beaches, marine products and coir industry.

The Alappuzha town is full of man made canals and bridges designed for promoting trade by water and road designed by Sri.Raja Kesavadas former Divan of State of Travancore. There was also a sea bridge in Alappuzha port for foreign trade. The city was known as 'Venice of East'. Coir and coir products, Coconut, Ginger, Pepper and Turmeric were the important items of trade through alappuzha port in the past. With the development of Cochin port and road transport, the importance of Alappuzha port diminished. Recently Government has taken action to rennovate Alappuzha port.

The district lies between 9^o 5 ' north latitude, 76^o 17 ' and 76^o 44 ' east longitudes. It is bounded on the north by Ernakulam district, east by Kottayam and Pathanamthitta districts south by Kollam district and the west by Arabian Sea. A singularity of this land is the region called Kuttanad --- a land of lush paddy fields referred to as the 'Rice Bowl of Kerala' and one of the few places in the world where farming is done below sea level.

The district at present consists of 6 taluks and 91 revenue villages. There are 12 Block panchayaths and 5 Municipalities. In 12 block panchayaths there are 73 Grama panchayaths.

Heavy rainfall, a warm humidity of atmosphere and a fairly uniform temperature throughout the year are the characteristic climatic features of the district. The actual average rainfall during 2004 was 2804m.m.

Achankovil, Pumba and Manimala are the important rivers passing through this district. The Vembanadu, which is the largest backwater in the state, is in the eastern side of this district.

The entire district has been categorized into four agro climatic regions, namely, Onattukara, Coastal belt, Southern Midland and Kuttanad region. Physiographically, the district is divided into two broad divisions ie, low land and midlands

Soils of this district are generally classified as sandy, clay and laterite. The sandy loom covers Karthikappally and Mavelikkara taluks, sandy soil seen in the coastal belt of Cherthala and Ambalappuzha taluks, clay and loom with much of activity cover Kuttanad taluk and lateric covers more than half of Mavelikkara taluk and entire area of Chengannur taluk.

Sand such as silica is mined from the Thanneermukkam and Chennam-Pallippuram panchayats. The Vembanadu Lake is also the source of lime shell.

Agriculture and Live stock rearing provide opportunities for augmenting income and employment in the rural households. The main crops cultivated are Paddy, Coconut, Tapioca, Cashew, Pepper Arecanut etc.. For the year 1999 –00, the area and production of rice were 35326 hectares and 92087 tonnes respectively. In 2004 – 05, it is reduced to 32158 hectares and 78491 tonnes respectively. The off-season rains at the time of harvest in Kuttanad, which pushed down production of paddy in the district compared to that of the previous years. The tendency of converting paddy fields to garden lands is also seen among farmers in this district. Coconut, one of the major crops, provides income and employment for large number of households with small land holdings. The Area and Production of Coconut on 2004-05 were 56325 hectares and 328 million nuts respectively. Pepper is cultivated mainly in Chengannur, Mavelikara and Bharanikavu as mixed crop in coconut gardens. Horticulture products such as jackfruit, mango, banana, pineapple, and plantain are also produced here.

There are 18 veterinary hospitals, 52 veterinary dispensaries, 6 veterinary polyclinics and 2 regional artificial insemination centers in the district. The cattle population in the district is 102130. There are 240 milk co-operative societies in the district.

The major irrigation projects in the district are Pumba Irrigation Project and Kallada Irrigation Project.

The coastal belt of about 82 k.m connected with a wide network of inland water bodies, Alappuzha has the requisite natural endowments for emerging as a leading fish producing district in the state. There are 54 fishing villages, where fishing and allied activities provide livelihood for vast majority of the population. The projected fishermen population in this district during 2004-05 is 182363 (Marine fishing-116272 Inland fishing-66091).

Many coir units suffer from the problems of low productivity, low investment and scarcity of raw materials.
