PREFACE

The Price is a value of commodity/service expressed in terms of money at a specified time and place. Farm prices of agricultural produce are influenced by a complex interplay of factors that determine the income stability of farmers and the affordability of food for consumers. Understanding these factors is crucial for both policymakers and stakeholders in the agricultural sector.

Economics and Statistics department is the nodal agency for the collection, compilation and dissemination of price statistics in the state. The department is collecting various prices such as Farm Wholesale and Retail prices, Market wholesale prices of various commodities, Retail prices of essential commodities etc. The prices of essential inputs such as seeds, fertilizers, labor, and fuel directly impact production costs. Fluctuations in these costs can lead to corresponding changes in farm prices to maintain profitability.

“Report on Analysis of Farm Prices 2021” deals with Farm Wholesale and Retail prices collected and published fortnightly and monthly respectively. This report is prepared by the collective effort of the officers working in the Price Division of this Directorate. I commend Shri. Rajendran Nair S, Assistant Director, for his diligent efforts in preparing this report. Suggestions for improvement of this report are appreciated.

FARM WHOLESale PRICE FOR THE YEAR 2021

Paddy Local - Nadan -₹/ Quintal

In 2021, the price of Paddy (Local–Nadan) showed noticeable fluctuations across the months. The year began with moderately high prices, averaging around ₹2276.24 in January and peaking slightly at ₹2341.67 in May. However, a sharp decline was observed in July, where the price dropped drastically to ₹1525 per quintal. Prices recovered gradually thereafter, reaching ₹2234.86 in September, before settling around ₹2122.73 in December.

Paddy (Local–High Yielding)

Similarly, the Paddy (Local–High Yielding) variety followed a comparable trend with prices starting at ₹2409.96 in January and reaching a peak of ₹2516.42 in April. A steep decline occurred by July, with the price falling to ₹1612.5 per quintal. The market then saw a steady recovery, with prices climbing again to ₹2444.31 in October before closing the year at ₹2330.33 in December. Overall, 2021 reflected considerable mid-year volatility in paddy prices, primarily due to seasonal factors and variations in market arrivals, followed by stabilization towards the end of the year.

Coconut ripe- without Husk & with Husk -₹/ Quintal

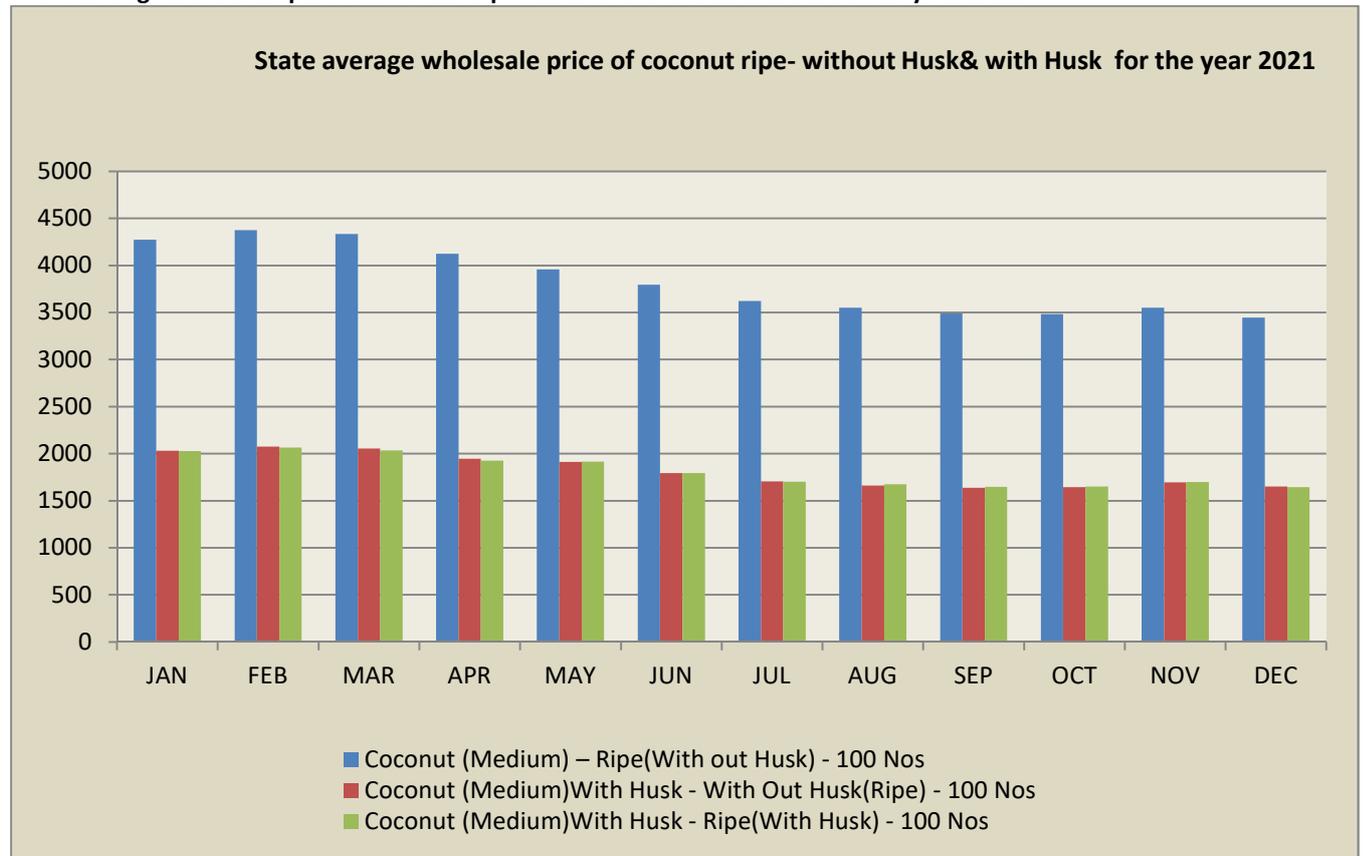

In 2021, the price trend of coconut across different forms showed a consistent downward movement through the year. The Coconut (Medium) – Ripe (Without Husk) – Quintal started the year at a relatively high level of ₹4274.38 in January and showed a gradual decline to ₹3795.47 by June, reaching the lowest level of ₹3447.54 in December. This steady fall reflected weakening market demand or increased availability in the later months. Similarly, the Coconut (Medium) – Without Husk (Ripe) 100 Nos recorded a decline from ₹2030.63 in January to ₹1705 in July, touching its lowest point around August–September at ₹1637, before ending the year at ₹1650.62, showing only a marginal recovery. The Coconut (Medium) – Ripe (With Husk) – 100 Nos also followed a parallel trend, beginning at ₹2028.13 in January, dipping steadily to ₹1700.8 in July, and closing the year slightly lower at ₹1642.83 in December. Overall, the year 2021 witnessed a gradual and consistent fall in coconut prices, with all varieties showing similar downward movement due to higher production and market supply pressures, coupled with subdued demand during mid to late months.

Arecanut ripe & arecanut chamban with husk for the year 2021

In 2021, the price of Arecanut exhibited a general upward trend during the first half of the year, followed by mild fluctuations in the later months. The Arecanut – Ripe (100 Nos) began the year at ₹218.2 in January and showed a steady increase, reaching its peak at ₹314.3 in July. However, prices softened in the latter half, declining to ₹255.3 in September and closing the year at ₹251.2 in December, indicating market stabilization after the mid-year high.

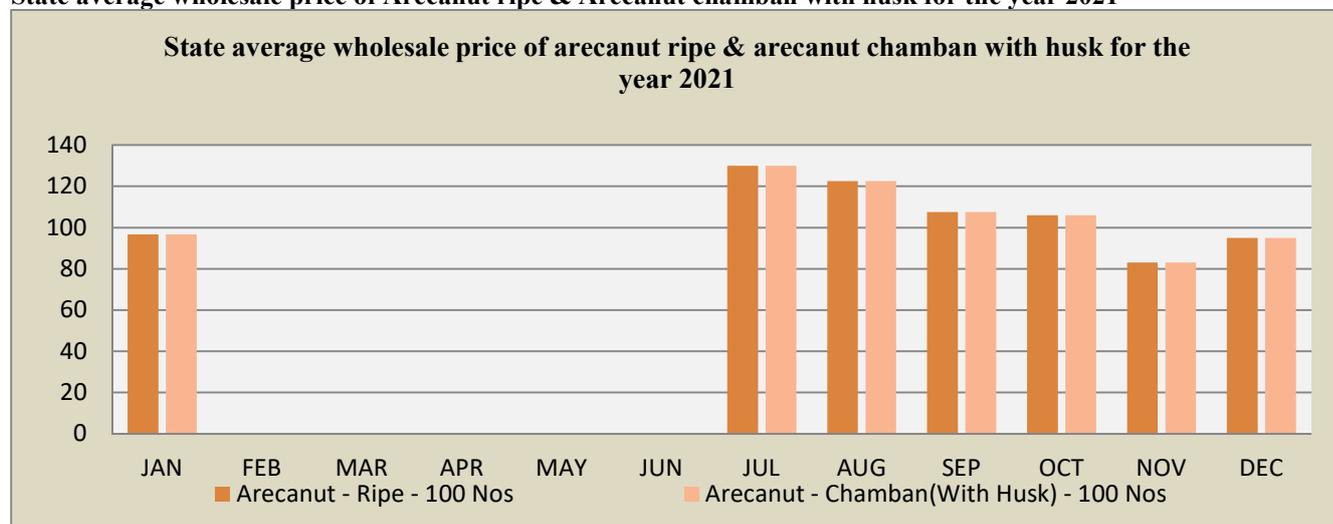

For the Arecanut – Chamban (With Husk) – 100 Nos, data were available only for select months, showing prices of ₹96.67 in January and ₹130 by July, before slightly decreasing to ₹83.07 in November and ending at ₹95.04 in December. Despite limited data, the trend suggests moderate variation with a mid-year peak followed by some correction. Overall, 2021 reflected moderate price growth and seasonal variation in arecanut, with the ripe variety showing stronger price performance compared to the Chamban type.

Cardamom local - Kg

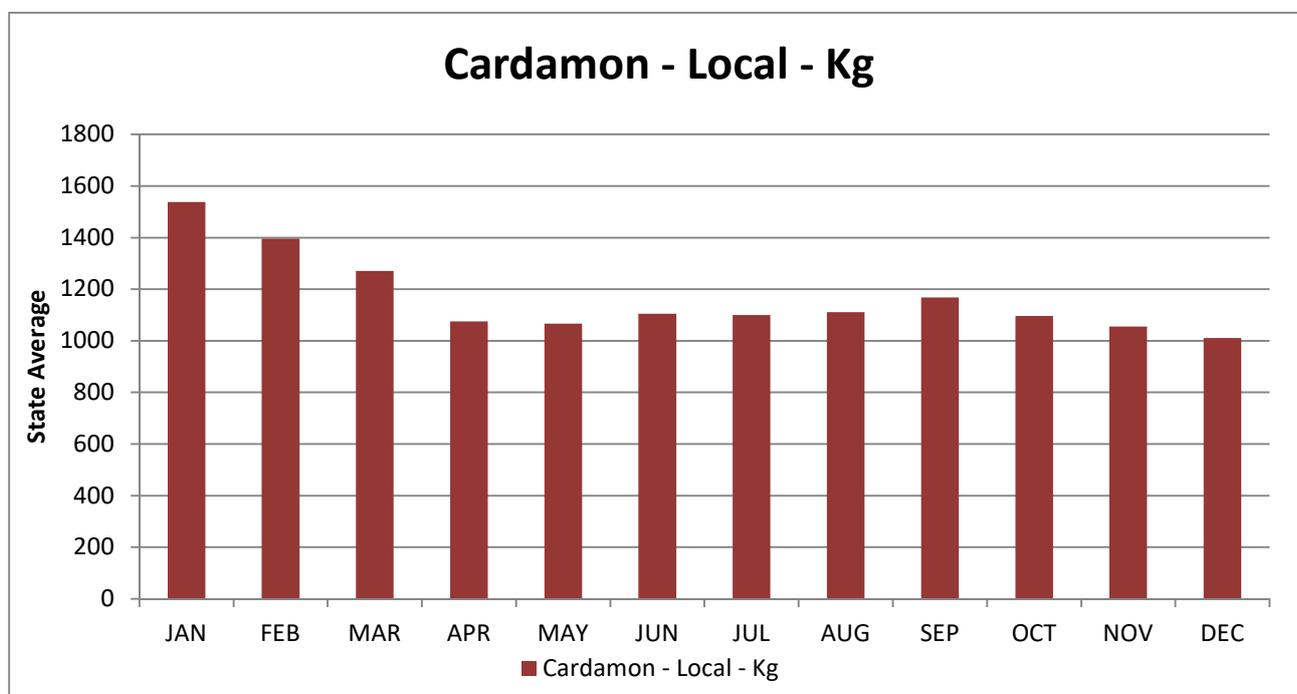

In 2021, the price of Cardamom (Local) showed a clear downward trend throughout the year, reflecting a period of declining market value. The year started with relatively high prices at ₹1538 per kilogram in January, but a steady fall was observed over the following months, reaching ₹1075 by April. Despite a slight recovery around August and September, where prices touched ₹1111 and ₹1168 respectively, the overall trend remained weak. By December, the price had declined further to ₹1011 per kilogram the lowest level of the year. Overall, 2021 was marked by a persistent fall in cardamom prices, reflecting challenging conditions for growers and a softening spice market.

Ginger & Ginger dry -₹/ Quintal

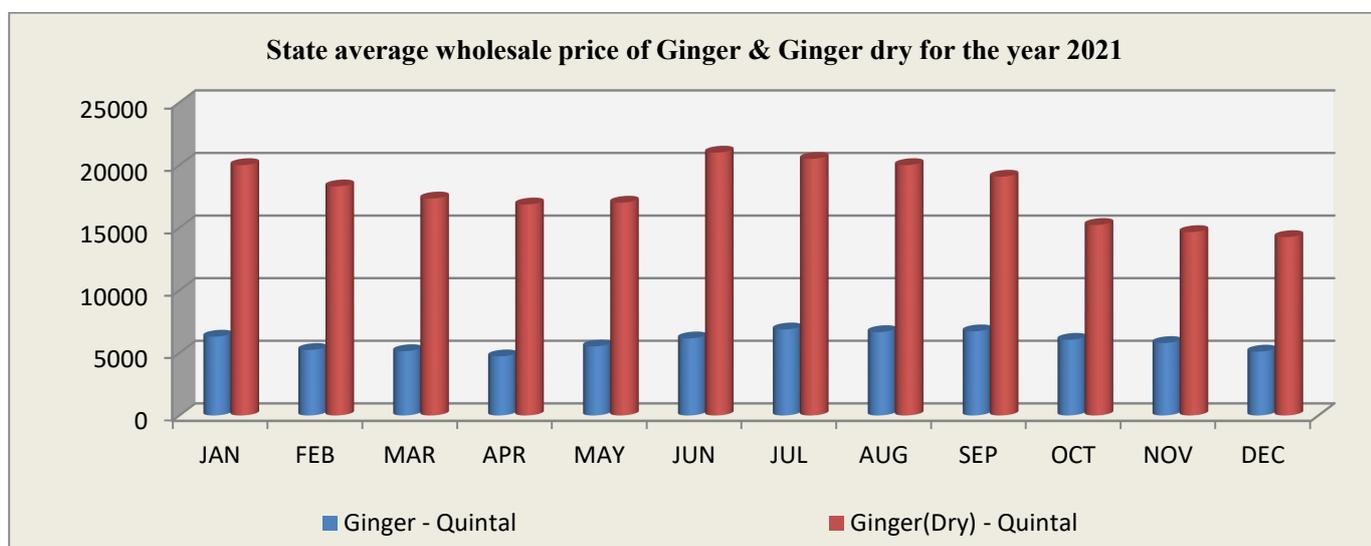

In 2021, the prices of Ginger and Dry Ginger exhibited contrasting but notable fluctuations across the months. The fresh Ginger price started at ₹6,296 per quintal in January and gradually declined to ₹4,720 in April, marking the lowest level in the first half of the year. Prices then rebounded, reaching ₹6,873 in July, the annual peak, before fluctuating mildly between ₹6,046 and ₹5,103 during the last quarter. Overall, fresh ginger showed a moderate mid-year recovery following an early slump.

The Dry Ginger market, on the other hand, showed a general downward trend with intermittent increases. Starting at a high of ₹20,000 per quintal in January, prices fell steadily to ₹16,857 by April. A sharp rise followed in June, when prices peaked at ₹21,000, the highest of the year. However, prices declined sharply again from August onward, falling to ₹14,250 in December the year's lowest point. Overall, fresh ginger experienced moderate fluctuations with a mid-year rise, whereas dry ginger showed a clear downward trajectory after mid-year, indicating supply stabilization and weaker demand in the latter months of 2021.

Coffee seed dry Robusta & Coffee seed dry Plantation—₹/ Quintal

In 2021, the prices of Coffee Seeds (Dry)—both Robusta and Plantation varieties—showed a strong upward trend. The Robusta variety started at ₹6450 per quintal in January and experienced slight fluctuations in the early months, reaching its lowest at ₹6213 in April. Thereafter, prices strengthened steadily, peaking at ₹7169 in December. Similarly, the Plantation variety began at ₹6100 in January and rose consistently through the year, hitting its highest point of ₹7700 in September. Although there was a mild correction toward the year-end, with December prices at ₹7500, the overall trend remained strong. The steady rise in coffee prices throughout 2021 reflects improved global market conditions, lower production in major growing regions, and heightened export demand, making it a highly favorable year for coffee growers.
